APPROPRIATION
BILLS DRAFTED

Measures To Raise Less Than $2,000,000 of $8,785,000 Voted by Davey.

NEW BUDGET BILL DROPPED

Herner Points to Fact That Items Not Killed by Government Remain in Effect.

By The Associated Press COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 8.—With plans for a revised biennial appropriations bill definitely off, legislature leaders drafted deficiency and supplemental appropriations measures today to raise less than $2,000,000 of the $8,785,000 voted from the original budget.
Sen. William H. Herner, Democrat of Huron county, chairman of the senate finance committee, predicted a $618,000 deficiency bill and a $1,250,000 supplemental appropriations bill would be necessary.
Sen. Herner declared that since the rejected part of the original budget bill was in effect and funds provided therefor encumbered, further efforts to agree on a revised bill were unnecessary.
Relief still deadlocked.
Deadlock continued over the relief problem. Each house, with a proposal of its own, waited for the other to act. The house finance committee wangled over a bill to appropriate $10,000,000 for a year without taking action last night.
One move in the direction of supplemental appropriations came in a bill introduced by Rep.
Charles P. McCormick, Republican of Adams county. He asked a $300,000 emergency appropriation to buy coal for Ohio State, Miami, Bowling Green, Wilberforce, and Ohio universities and the Wooster Agricultural Experiment station.
Gov. Martin L. Davey, in his vetoes, slashed coal items at the state supported universities.
Sen. Herner backed his estimates

ROOSEVELT CONFERS
WITH REV. COUGHLIN

Priest Talked with Morgan-thau Yesterday but Declines To Discuss Visit.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—President Roosevelt arranged for an engagement today with Father Charles E. Coughlin, Detroit radio priest, who is in the city. The White House reported Fr. Coughlin asked the appointment.
Fr. Coughlin conferred yesterday with Secretary Morgenthau but declined to discuss his visit.
The last time the Detroit priest saw the President was at his Hyde Park, N. Y., residence, last summer. Joseph E. Kennedy, then head of the securities commission, accompanied Coughlin but neither would comment on the nature or possible political significance of the conference.

RELIGIOUS GROUP
OPENS OWN SCHOOL

By The Associated Press
EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Jan. 8.— A private school has been established by Jehovah's Witnesses, religious sect, in a controversy with the board of education over an order requiring pupils to participate in daily patriotic exercises.
C. R. Staats notified the board that a qualified teacher had been engaged. Two of his children were suspended in November for refusing to comply with the order.
Members of the sect said they had sworn not to worship any earthly object.

JACKSON FETE
TO OPEN DRIVE
BY DEMOCRATS

Party Leaders Converge on Washington To Hear Roosevelt Speak at 10 Tonight.

SOME WILL BE ABSENT

Al Smith Will Not Be There and John W. Davis' Attendance Is Uncertain.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Democratic party leaders converged on Washington today to help President Roosevelt formally launch his campaign for reelection tonight at the national Jackson day dinner.
As he addresses similar gatherings from coast to coast from the banquet table here at 10 p. m., eastern standard time, the President will be surrounded by his cabinet, most Democratic members of the senate and house, members of the national committee and other prominent party officials.
Many Vacant Chairs
But almost as conspicuous as the list of guests will be the names of absentees. Alfred E. Smith, once the Democratic presidential candidate, will not be there. Probably John W. Davis, another one-time party nominee, will not. Missing will be other names that have figured prominently at former Jackson day dinners.
Smith and Davis are members of the American Liberty league which reiterated its charge today that Democratic Chairman James A. Farley, in selling tickets to the dinner to federal office holders, violated the law.
In a statement, the league characterized as a "bed-time story" the assertion of the Democratic national committee that Farley had nothing to do with soliciting campaign funds by sale of tickets.
He Wants Money
Farley was quoted by the league as addressing state presidents of young Democratic clubs and urging them to price the dinners high enough to produce revenue for the Democratic party. Several of these presidents, the league added, are federal office holders.
The dinner tonight will be followed tomorrow by a meeting of the national committee to select the time and place for the national convention. Philadelphia and Chicago are the leading contestants, but there were reports of other bids from Atlantic City or San Francisco.
More than 1,800 tickets for the dinner have been sold at $50 each. Democratic officials said more than 250,000 Democrats would attend the 2,000 dinners being held elsewhere.
President Roosevelt's words will be carried by short and long wave radio to dinners in Puerto Rico, and Hawaii and even vessels on the high seas.
From $50 to $2 Cost of the dinners range from the $50 for the banquet here down to $2 in some places. Party officials hope the receipts will wipe out the Democratic deficit of $400,000 and perhaps provide a start toward a campaign fund.
A second dinner is being held here at the same time. Given by the Young Democratic clubs, it will be attended by Mrs. Roosevelt. The charge for this one will be $10 a plate.
In contrast to former Jackson day dinners, at which there have been many speakers, the President will make the only address tonight. He will be introduced by Farley.
The chief executive is expected by his friends to speak in the same embellished language he employed in his annual message to congress. Whether he would refer to the supreme court's AAA decision was a subject of some speculation, but those close to him felt any such reference would be brief.

Network To Carry
Roosevelt Speech

President Roosevelt's Jackson day speech will be broadcast at 10 o'clock tonight over NBC-WEAF network, with both WLW and WTAM carrying the message.

West To Sound
Keynote in Ohio

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 8.—Ohio Democrats looked to Charles West, undersecretary of the interior and former Granville resident, to sound the keynote of various Jackson day banquet addresses tonight, as part of a national party rally.
West was scheduled to speak in Toledo early in the evening and then go to Cleveland for an address, although he said a cold might keep him from both appearances.
Many other Ohio speakers were expected. Democrats will also celebrate Roosevelt's reelection tonight. Many speakers will be heard at the dinner here at 10 p. m.

GRAND JURY INDICTS
FRANK L. BROTHERS

Former Marion Man Charged With $13,783 State Fund Embezzlement.

The January term grand jury of Franklin county at Columbus yesterday returned an indictment against Frank L. Brothers, former Marion man and former chief of the bureau of accounting of the division of conservation for Ohio, charging embezzlement. The Associated Press reported.
The indictment charged Brothers with converting to his own use $12,783 belonging to the state of Ohio from April 12, 1932, to Dec.
8, 1934.
Attorney General John W. Bricker said he would act to recover the alleged shortages as soon as the state auditor formally notified him of discrepancies. The state conservations council and Lawrence Woodell, commissioner of conservations, had asked the attorney general to institute action for recovery against Brothers.
Fuel and Food Only Meanwhile Mr. Abel said he is using every means to cut down on relief expenditures to extend the remaining Carey bond money as far as possible. Relief is restricted to the distribution of fuel and food, he said, and requests for all other forms of aid are being turned down except in case of extreme necessity for clothing and other essentials. The fuel bill is eating up the relief money rapidly.
The fuel bill for Monday alone amounted to $340, which Abel said may be taken as almost a daily average during the cold weather.
Only $14,000 of the Carey bond money earmarked for direct relief

FARM LEADERS STUDYING
SYSTEM TO REPLACE AAA

Soil Conservation Program and Surplus Control Plan Similar to McNary-Haugen Bill Studied.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The nation's farm leaders, invited to help Secretary Wallace reform the in-constitutional crop control program, sounded today for a farm plan which would "pass through the legislative court" here.
In their preliminary views, some advocated two distinct subdivisions for the agricultural adjustment act and the soil conservation act, and others demanded merging the two acts into one. Wallace, the cabinet member in charge of the program, said he would accept the plan which he thought would be most effective in the long run.

COMMITTEE REPORTS
BONUS BILL TO HOUSE

LOOK TO STATE
FOR RELIEF AID

Davey Tells Marion Officials Legislature Expected To Provide Funds.

1,050 NOW ON LIST HERE

County's Funds for Purpose Seen Exhausted by January 20.

With relief funds in Marion county certain to be exhausted the week of Jan. 20, county commissioners and Relief Director John Abel were looking forward today to action in the state legislature to care for the local dole load at 1,050 after that date, following their conference yesterday afternoon with Gov. Davey.
The governor told the commissioners and Mr. Abel he is convinced the legislature will put through legislation within the immediate future that will provide funds for counties, like Marion, that have exhausted their resources for relief purposes. There is a bill pending calling for appropriation of $10,000,000 for relief aid to counties. This is expected to be put through when representatives from one or two counties in the northern part of the state reduce the demands they have made that would constitute a "raid" on the fund.

Thomas Predicts Action

Mr. Abel said he talked with Earl E. Thomas, Marion county representative, who said relief legislation is virtually certain to be passed, before this county's relief funds are exhausted.
Gov. Davey questioned Mr. Abel and the commissioners regarding the number of employables now on county relief rolls and was told there are approximately 700. He inquired why they have not been placed on WPA projects, and learned that the WPA program in Marion county had not been going ahead as expected.
The governor referred the commissioners to Dr. Carl Watson, Ohio WPA chief, for an explanation as to the reason WPA projects for this county are being held up.
Watson was not in and the commissioners were told by his secretary that the matter would be taken up with Watson immediately and some report would soon be available.
Abel today pointed to two projects—park beautification and grading of the airport field—that have not been released by state WPA headquarters even though they require but little local outlay of money which is available. O. N.
Baker, WPA engineer here, could give no reason for the delay. He said everything is ready locally and that the projects would employ nearly 200 men.
C. E. Willoughby, clerk of the board of commissioners, quoted Gov. Davey as saying that there is no state provision for a direct grant of funds to Marion county at this time and that the only hope is through early legislative action.

Morgan's Dickering With British Over Arms Bared

Evidence Shows He Invited Britain To Buy Control of American Rifle Company.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Evidence that J. P. Morgan invited Great Britain to buy control of an American arms plant before this country entered the World war was introduced today in the senate's investigation of war-time finances.
The invitation was contained in a cablegram from Morgan to the Morgan house in London. J. P.
Morgan & Co. then was purchasing agent in the United States for Great Britain and France.
Dated Jan. 14, 1916, it said the Westchester Repeating Arms Co. was in financial difficulties.
Suggests Stock Purchase
"The point is, would the British government be interested in purchasing this stock or in making any suggestion regarding its purchase, or would they like to investigate the situation with the possible view of J. P. Morgan & Co. interesting others in the purchase in which event they might have to become a party?" the message continued.
The senate munitions committee, which is examining Morgan and his partners' contacts with American financial transactions with the allies led this country into the war.
It held in reserve today evidence that Morgan's company supplied Great Britain with "machine information" on American government activity before the United States joined the struggle.
Evidence introduced to show this was ready to be laid before Morgan and his partners, appearing again today before the senate munitions committee. Committee members, hoping to snarl their opponents' neutral ideas, are seeking to determine whether banking links to the allies had influence in inducing the United States to join them in war.
Nye Issues Warning
A warning to Morgan and his partners to avoid "interfering" with the senate hearing into the causes of American entrance into the World war was issued by Sen.
Nye.
Chairman of the committee before which the famous banker has been called to explain his wartime financing, Nye declared:
"Before we undertake to say whether submarines or industry and business got us into the war, we'll make the record. Then we'll all have our say as to what got us into the war."
Thomas W. Lamont, Morgan partner, had just repeated the contention voiced by Morgan yesterday that their financial activities were not to blame for America entering the war.

Year's Postal
Receipts Here
Show Increase

Gain of 6.1 Per Cent Over 1934 Reflects Business Improvement.

Postal receipts for the calendar year ended Dec. 31, 1935, amounted to $133,131.80, a gain of 6.1 per cent over the 1934 receipts of $125,450.98.
Postmaster L. L. Lamborn reported today.
Receipts for the month of December, 1935, topped those of the corresponding month of 1934 by 10.4 per cent, the report showed.
The figures for the month showed receipts amounting to $10,704.81 in comparison with $9,627.12 for the preceding December.
The gain is a reflection of steady increases in the receipts throughout the year and is interpreted by Postmaster Lamborn as a gradual improvement in business conditions. The receipts include the sale of stamps, lock box rent and permit mailing.
Money orders paid at the Marion postoffice last year amounted to $226,170.05 while the amount invested in money orders totaled $476, 766.89.
Baby bonds sold since they were first offered by the federal government on March 1 last year amounted to $188,793.75, the report shows. Savings deposits amounted to $900,704, and interest paid on deposits amounted to $200.61.

PAYMENT SEEN
RECOVERY AID

Debate Scheduled Tomorrow With Vote on Passage Set for Friday.

BACKERS CLAIM DEBT DUE

Point to Increase in Purchasing Power Expected To Result After Payoff.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—In a formal report to the house, the ways and means committee today recommended cash payment of the bonus as an essential part of the recovery program and as capable of increasing the nation's purchasing power.
House consideration tomorrow with a vote probable Friday was assured.
"The rules committee gave the right of way on the floor to the bill passed by the house, the high-three veterans organizations, it will be called up tomorrow and allows four hours of general debate."
Not Administration Bill
When Chairman Doughton, Democrat of North Carolina, of the ways and means committee was asked by Rep. Cox, Democrat of Georgia, if the rules group whether the bonus bill approved by the committee was "an administration proposal with the endorsement of the President," Doughton replied:
"Not to my knowledge. I wish it were."
The ways and means committee report said:
"In the judgment of the committee immediate cash payment of the adjusted service certificates will increase the purchasing power of the nation. It believes that it is an essential part of the recovery program, that the present policy, looking toward recovery through a program of public work agencies, although that is a valid policy, in itself, does not, and should not be paid in cash to the defenders of our country, who rendered the services and paid in their lifetimes."
The committee said that additional money immediately necessary for payment would be about $1,000,000,000. It added the "consideration" that the adjusted services in the then, flower of our manhood should be recognized in a small adjustment of their service pay," and that the veterans should receive that adjustment in their lifetimes.
With neither Democratic leaders nor the appropriations committee suggesting any delay, bonus back-ers planned in bringing the measure up for debate tomorrow.

RELIEF SHAKEDOWN CHARGE HELD UNTRUE

Committee Leader Reports Extravagance in Statement Upholding Davey.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 8.—Rep. Robert J. Davey, Democrat of Ohio, today charged that a relief shakedown charge held untrue. Davey, who is chairman of the House Committee on Relief Administration, today issued a statement in which he said that the charge that he had received $100,000 from the relief fund was untrue. He said that he had received only $10,000 from the fund and that the remainder was for the use of the relief fund.

The test case showed Davey's report said that relief in Ohio in many instances had been administered in a way that was efficient and economical. He said that he had received only $10,000 from the fund and that the remainder was for the use of the relief fund. He said that he had received only $10,000 from the fund and that the remainder was for the use of the relief fund.

FAIRBANKS SILENT ON MARITAL PLANS

Has Nothing To Say Regarding Romance on Arrival at New York

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Douglas Fairbanks Jr. is through acting and has nothing to say about his reported romance with Lady Ashley of England.

Mr. Fairbanks was as silent concerning Mary Pickford as he was about Lady Ashley. I simply won't discuss my private affairs, he replied to a question whether he would see Miss Pickford when he goes to California Sunday.

His introductory decree of divorce against him became final Friday.

CHARGES HEARD IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Three charges of permitting employees to work more than the time allowed by state law filed against Chris Thiroff as manager of the Thiroff restaurant at 32 South Main street were heard in municipal court yesterday afternoon.

The three charges were filed by Mrs. Gertrude S. Weaver of Mt. Vernon of the state department of industrial relations. Mr. Thiroff was found not guilty on the first charge which alleged that he permitted Mrs. Ward Wilson to work for more than nine hours in one day in November. Decision on the second charge filed on the same grounds in connection with another employee, Mrs. L. H. Schultz, was held open. The third charge which alleged that Miss Ferial MacBury was permitted to work more than 90 hours in one week during November was dismissed on motion of the prosecution.

Conservation Head Urges Sportsmen To Organize

Woodell Addresses 300 Members of Marion County Fish and Game Group.

An enthusiastic crowd of approximately 200 members of the Marion County Fish and Game Protective Association heard a talk by Lawrence Woodell of Painesville, Ohio, conservationist, at their first 1936 meeting last night in the Eagles building.

DEATH OF AAA FAILS TO ALTER FOOD PRICES

Violent Fluctuation of Commodity Markets Not Felt by Consumers.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—In spite of all the violent roiling of speculation in the commodity markets, the AAA inactivation, the curbing of most raw materials finds prices today not widely changed from levels predominant just before the supreme court gave its judgment.

A few staples must be excepted, notably raw cotton and sugar. Notably circles there were believed to have suffered loss of important supplies with the sweeping away of the AAA's structure.

ARY HEARS BARRETT

Army Leaders Re-History and Work of Organization
The Salvation Army's history and work of the organization from its beginning in England under General William Booth.

Great destinies often are wrapped up in insignificant events," Colonel Barrett said in referring to the first small street meeting held under General Booth's leadership in 1865. Now, he said, the organization has branches in 90 countries and colonies, all striving toward the same purpose of bringing the message of religion to the uncultured masses and help to the poor.

More Tolerance Evident
Declaring that there should be no "wall or partition" separating people of the various religious denominations, Colonel Barrett said that all have come to be more tolerant of one another, with steadily increasing mutual understanding and sympathy.

Stressing the importance of extending every possible aid and measure of counsel to youth, he told of work being done for young people by the Salvation Army, a service which extends to those serving prison terms.

The speaker reviewed the history of the Salvation Army as divided into three periods. In the first, it was subjected to ridicule and slander, with many of its leaders cast into prison for "preaching on the street corners." The second period found the public "just tolerating" the movement, with statements like, "Just leave them alone; they may mean well," Colonel Barrett said. The present and third period finds the organization acclaimed and praised throughout the world.

Four-Point Program
The platform of the Salvation Army was stated as, "A home for all, food for all, work for all, salvation for all."

Colonel Barrett joined the Salvation Army in Wales. He has been an officer 36 of the more than 40 years constituting his membership.

He was introduced by Major Fred Malpass of Cincinnati, who spoke briefly. A short talk was also given by Captain John Hunter, head of the Marion Salvation Army post. Colonel Barrett and Major Malpass came here to attend a conference of the organization's officers in the Western Ohio division.

Announcement was made that motion pictures of the Ohio State university-Navy football game will be shown at next week's Rotary club meeting by Ernie Godfrey, O. S. U. assistant coach.

ERIE LODGE WILL INSTALL OFFICERS

Plans were announced today for installation of the new officers of Erie lodge No. 1008 in the near future at a meeting in Labor hall on West Center street.

Arrangements for the work were completed at a meeting of the lodge Friday. Those to be installed are David Poos, president; H. E. Smith, vice president; H. Attenberger, financial secretary; Elmer Elliott, recorder; Roy Hening, treasurer; H. E. Smith, trustee for one-year term, and Clay Powelson, trustee for three-year term.

A smoker and social period will follow the installation.

LESSONS IN LAW-MAKING

Legislation in congress originates in various ways. The President may send brief messages from time to time, each making a specific recommendation. Usually a senator or representative will prepare a bill carrying out the President's recommendations and introduce it in the senate or house.

Immediately upon receipt of the message, if this is not done, the committee considering the message may draft such a bill and report it to the senate or house.

Bills for raising revenue, under the Constitution, must originate in the house of representatives.

A bill may originate through any member of the senate or house. The member prepares his bill and introduces it. In the house he drops it in a basket on the clerk's desk. It immediately is referred to the proper committee, which will consider it and report it favorably if the committee considers the proposed legislation desirable.

Many bills remain in committee undisturbed and never are heard from again. In some cases they have served their purpose without further action. They have advised the member and the project. Many bills introduced have no chance of serious consideration or passage.

Several members may introduce similar bills. The committee considering them may combine the best features of several of them in a new bill, or it may write an entirely new measure and report it. Some legislation originates by petitions from citizens.

Red Cross Worker On Program of Club Federation

INTERESTING experiences, which might easily be taken as proof that finding out how the other half of the world lives lies mostly within ourselves, were told by Mrs. Nellie S. Hildred of Toledo, executive secretary of the Toledo Red Cross chapter, before members of the Marion County Federation of Women's clubs last night.

The program meeting, held in the recreation room of the First Presbyterian church, marked the opening of the post-holiday sessions of the federation, and was sponsored by members of the Marion County club.

Mrs. W. T. Buchanan, president of the sponsoring group, presided, and the program included a group of pleasing numbers by the Avelon quartet, which includes Mrs. Clarence L. Rutherford, soprano, Miss Dora Jacobs, contralto, Harold Brandt, baritone, and Hamer Mitchell, tenor. The quartet sang two Bach chorales, a Czechoslovakian folk song and "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes." They sang unaccompanied.

Mrs. Hildred did not talk of her work as a Red Cross executive, but gave her audience glimpses of the lives of some of the very interesting people she has met, and others whom she knows quite intimately. Always it seems, she is able to recognize, and in no small measure share some of their philosophy of life, their experiences and humor. Mrs. Hildred's work and travels have brought her in contact with personages of the stage, literary field, the prizefight ring and the poetry-reciting Pullman porter, and from each she draws a lesson for herself and her friends. Commonplace people, she believes, are the most interesting and "it is from hearing the problems of others that we learn patience, tolerance and to be less critical," she said.

The program hour was preceded by a short business session with Mrs. Paul Knauss, president of the federation presiding. The book review to be given by Mrs.

Other movie salaries: Joan Bennett, $58,576; George Burns and Gracie Allen took $58,791, jointly; Dorothy Parker Campbell, just plain Dorothy Parker to admirers of her plucky sayings, $16,001; Claudette Colbert, $55,000; Gary Cooper, $139,567; Marlene Dietrich, $145,000; W. C. Fields, $155,083; Miriam Hopkins, $71,145 and Sylvia Sydney, $110,533.

Harlem tunes of Duke Ellington and his orchestra netted the duke $18,249 from the movies. Guy Lombardo and his orchestra picked up $18,249.

The cigar salesman just listed helped pay George W. Hill, president of American Tobacco Co., $157,126 salary.

Col. Frank Knox of the Chicago Daily News has been mentioned as a possible Republican candidate for the presidency of the United States, a job which pays $75,000 a year. That is just what Col. Knox collected as salary in 1934.

R. R. McCormick, president and editor of the Tribune Co., Chicago, received $50,000.

Enuresis.

Mothers have many troubles to contend with and many worries. They are eager for their children to be well and strong, free from all physical complaints. One trouble some condition is bed-wetting, or enuresis as the doctors call it.

In many instances the abnormality can be corrected by simple measures. But unfortunately, the condition is frequently neglected. Many mothers keep it as a normal occurrence, believing the weakness will be outgrown. Yet it may run on for years and such a case will disappear only when the necessary steps are taken to determine the cause.

There are various causes for enuresis. It may be due to a tight or adherent foreskin and for this circumcision is advised. Sometimes it is due to intestinal worms or to a disturbance in the tissues about the vent.

It may result from mental overstimulation. That is why it is frequently encountered in children who are nervous and highly strung. Sometimes it may be traced to some infection or other disorder of the bladder or kidneys. Certain congenital abnormalities cause enuresis and may require operation for their removal. Fortunately such cases are rare. If the child has been examined by a physician and no organic defects are found the cure is simple.

Encourage the youngster to empty the bladder just before going to bed. The evening meal must not include an excess of fluids. Indeed, it is advisable to limit the quantities of milk and water after 5 o'clock.

Trilling and spicy foods should be omitted from the diet. It should be limited to simple, bland but nutritious foods.

If these simple measures are not effective, it may be necessary to awaken the child during the night to empty the bladder. It is well to have a regular schedule, perhaps at 10 o'clock and in the morning at 6.

The important thing about the treatment is to establish a new habit. It is amazing how quickly this can be done with most children. With insistence upon regularity for a while, the function becomes automatic.

The mother must not overlook the importance of thoroughly awakening the child. Merely carrying him from the crib to the lavatory is not sufficient to rouse him. If the child is partially asleep while voiding the desired results are not accomplished. Make him conscious of the program; then he is more likely to cooperate.

MISSOPELO: Allaire West thought she had checked the social whirl she has lived in all her life and decided to follow Terry Willett to South America to try to make him understand that she loves him. She has left her sociable parents and the disappointed George Fox behind. And when she lands at Proponaire she will find Terry and Hacks Corrigan, two very tough and self-confident young men, fighting one of the most difficult engineering jobs in the world. Fighting hard.

CHAPTER THIRTY-SEVEN

Travelling Light

THE coastwise steamer from the capital followed a long tropical shoreline, nosed into the harbor proper, proceeding slowly under the direction of a native pilot, gingerly feeling the way through waters that recently had been infested with mines.

The long stolid phalanx of sun-baked roofs spread out before her, coming right down to the long shipping front with its warehouses and cranes and coffee chutes.

When she landed at her berth, a slim girl dressed in tropical white with a gay touch of color in the form of a lilac scarf about her throat, stepped ashore into an atmosphere of humming chutes, jabbering hybrid tongues, and noisy steamship cranes.

It was queer to see a girl landing alone, queerer still to see that nobody met her. White women of her type didn't come to Proponaire unattended.

This girl wore dark glasses against the glare of the sun, and if she felt strange and alone in that sunlit, empty part of the world, she didn't show it. Her step was elastic and she moved quickly and surely across the dock toward the customs house, a steward carrying two suitcases following her.

Allaire West was travelling light.

this trip. Usually she had several trucks, also a maid.

When she came out of the customs a flock of waterfront hash drivers besieged her like chattering incomprehensible magpies, elbowing each other to shriek their terms, crowding up on her in an unwashed mob.

But this cool-appearing Senorita wasn't flustered. She walked calmly to a taxi and got in. That settled everything. Whatever owned it could drive her.

"Cafe Nacional Compania," she said, and added to herself, "Aloous Spanish my dear."

But the driver understood. National Coffee company. He was a thin, shrewd man in soiled limp white ducks and a battered straw hat. His car was a creaking arrangement; stuffing bulged through gaps in the upholstery and the leather seat was sun-dried and cracked. Allaire had ridden in hotter equippers. She smiled slightly.

But the car moved and that was enough. She was here! All through the long air journey to the capital and the trip by steamer she had made no plans beyond just getting here.

Now she was here and a big question mark rode with her through narrow streets of houses with iron balconies and little short pillars. She was glad when the car got out of that waterfront district and went into a wider cleaner avenue past parks and plazas of shabby elegance in artistic design.

The Latina would let her industries go to rack and ruin; while they flew at each other's throats, but their parks never suffered, even in Proponaire. That sight of green beauty stilled and reassured her somewhat. It was something familiar in the midst of gray, squalid confusion.

She alighted before the National Coffee company office. It was the only place she had to start. They were Terry Willett's employers.

The native clerk stared at her in amazement, and so did Drake, the tall Englishman who was manager of the branch office.

"Willett?" he repeated. "Why he's been in town the past few days, but he's leaving right away. Going up the river to work."

"Where can I find him?" she asked quickly.

Drake rubbed his long chin with bony fingers. Where in the name of all that's holy had Willett ever met a girl like this? She seemed very anxious to find that man who'd come back from the States not saying much.

"He might be in the Santini Hotel. If you'd like, I'll take you up there."

"Thank you," she said gratefully.

"Ho! Mase!" he murmured, dazed.

There was another crash as a glass fell from Willett's fingers, which were suddenly like those of a small child. He stared incredulously, the tan ebbing from his cheeks and the sound of many waterfalls in his ears. If his father had stood there he couldn't have been more flabbergasted.

Drake excused himself. Corrigan looked from the girl to Willett and back to the girl again.

"Aren't you going to ask me in, Terry?" she said, a little tremulously.

He didn't say anything for a moment. He couldn't. Willett was usually quick to recover from a surprise, recover and adopt a course of action with the speed and snap of a cracking whip.

But this was something that beat in his young life. Surprise! There had to be another word for it.

"Wait a minute," said Corrigan. "I'm in the way here."

He got up and walked to the door, stopping to beam at the girl. "I'm Corrigan, that lug's partner," he announced, "and if you get tired of looking for him, start looking for me."

He grinned and went out, closing the door behind him. And still Willett was silent.

"Oh, please say something, Terry," the girl begged. "I know you're surprised, but couldn't you act as if you liked it?"

Allaire talks to a chap named Corrigan, tomorrow.

The Stars Say--

For Thursday, Jan. 3

Many adverse planetary directions make this a day of doubtful issues. There are omens of devastating upheavals, treachery, vexation and trial to be vainly met or surmounted philosophically.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves in a year calling for courage and fortitude. A bereavement may be at the root of an upheaval or a sudden change in the affairs.

A child born on this day may be rolling and exclusive, caring more for sleek places in the country than social contacts because of the studious and introspective nature.

OTTERBEIN GUILD STUDIES AFRICA

The making of a friendship quilt was discussed. A tea will be given Feb. 3 at the home of Miss Betty Powell of East Columbia street. Miss John Butts and Miss Ruth and Thelma Carlier of Susquehanna, Pa., were guests.

VETERAN EXHIBITOR AT CO. FAIR DIES

Jacob H. Cole, 92, Well-Known Poultryman, Passes Away Near Delaware.

Jacob H. Cole, 92-year-old poultryman who was an exhibitor at the Marion county fair for many years, died Monday at his home northwest of Berksboro in Delaware county.

The 1935 fair was the first in many years at which Mr. Cole did not exhibit, and his absence from the grounds was due to falling health, friends said. He was a familiar figure on the grounds and could be found in his chair at the entrance of the poultry hall from the time the fair opened until the last day.

Several years ago Mr. Cole told an interviewer at the Marion fairgrounds that he had purchased his farm and sent several children through college with the money earned by his poultry exhibits at the Ohio State fair and county fairs throughout the section of the state.

Three daughters and a son survive.

The funeral was conducted today at the home of Mrs. Cole.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning!

The liver should pour out two quarts of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just sits in the bowels. You sleep on your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, such and the usual back pain.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A more bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two quarts of bile flowing freely and make you feel up and up! There's bile, gentle, yet stimulating in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Rubbing them anywhere else.

A QUESTION OF DOLLARS AND SENSE

THE purchase of a truck is a business proposition. As such, it should be made in a businesslike way. And the businesslike way to buy a truck is to find out FIRST what that truck will do right on your own job.

Specifications alone cannot tell you the whole story. The experiences of others are not as convincing as your own. But even your own experiences with previous models are not completely convincing because in 1936, trucks have been improved.

The businesslike way to buy a truck is to call your Ford dealer and tell him you want an "on-the-job" test with your own loads, over your own roads, with your own driver at the wheel. He will gladly lend you his demonstrator truck and invite you to make your own tests . . . your own comparisons . . . of V-8 Economy and V-8 Performance under your own individual operating conditions.
